

My piece is about an egg finding its way home back to the nest. I made it into an interactive game, like a simple maze game. To add more personality to it, I made the egg and most of the other components into animation. I name the piece "The way to home."